KITTU -The Dog Man -Synopsis

Kittu- the dog lover is an illegitimate child born to a mentally challenged Brahmin woman. His mother died soon after his birth and it was his grandfather who looked after him until his death. An orphan in life, Kittu loved animals more than humans, especially stray dogs with whom he has a special bond.

To earn his livelihood, Kittu used to do all kinds of jobs, slowly he chose woodcutting as his profession. He always spent a portion of his wages to feed street dogs and other domestic animals which he protects.

Few years back, he became a chronic kidney patient suffering from anaemia and severe blood loss. Kittu is now fighting for his life, while his dear animal friends wait for his comeback.
