Call for Papers

The committee issued the call for papers in June, inviting original research articles from academicians, researchers, and scholars. The notification clearly outlined the submission guidelines and specified 30 August 2025 as the deadline for manuscript submission. To ensure wider participation, the announcement was circulated through academic networks, social media, and professional forums.

Submission Management

The committee systematically received, documented, and organized all manuscripts submitted for publication. Each submission was carefully scrutinized to ensure compliance with the prescribed submission guidelines before being forwarded for the peer review process.

Correspondence with Authors

The committee maintained regular communication with authors throughout the publication process. Contributors were kept informed about the progress of their submissions and were contacted whenever additional information, clarifications, or revisions were required.

Peer Review Process

The committee identified and invited subject experts from diverse disciplines to serve as peer reviewers for the submitted manuscripts. Each manuscript was assigned to reviewers based on their area of expertise to ensure a fair and objective evaluation.

The review process was carefully coordinated by the committee, with continuous monitoring to ensure timely completion of reviews. Every manuscript underwent a rigorous and unbiased assessment, maintaining the journal's academic standards and resulting in the selection of 26 quality research papers for publication.

Research Writing Workshop

A One-Day Workshop on "New Trends in Research Writing" was jointly organized by the Journal Committee, the Research Committee, and IQAC on 14 August 2025 at the Seminar Hall, KKTM Government College, Pullut. The workshop aimed to familiarize faculty members, research scholars, and students with current trends in academic publishing and responsible research practices.

Inaugural Session

The programme commenced with an inaugural session. Dr. Seema Menon delivered the welcome address, followed by the presidential address by Ms. Sajitha P. G., Coordinator of the Journal Committee. The workshop was inaugurated by Prof. (Dr.) Bindu Sharmila T. K., Principal of the College. Dr. Lovely George offered felicitations, and the session concluded with the vote of thanks delivered by Mr. Felbin Antony. Around 100 participants attended the workshop.

Technical Sessions

The workshop featured two insightful technical sessions by distinguished resource persons. The first session, led by Dr. Surendran Cherukodan, focused on "Strategies for Selecting High-Quality Journals in Research." He explained the importance of identifying credible journals, understanding indexing databases, avoiding predatory journals, and adopting effective publication strategies.

The second session was handled by Dr. Amal Thomas K. on "AI Unlocked: Tools for the Modern Researcher." The session introduced participants to a range of AI-powered tools that support literature review, academic writing, referencing, and research productivity while emphasizing the ethical and responsible use of artificial intelligence in scholarly work. The workshop provided valuable insights into contemporary research practices and strengthened participants' understanding of quality academic publishing.
